Support for Logistics Workers (Italy)

The International Labor Network of Solidarity and Struggle expresses its solidarity to the hundreds of workers and union activists in the logistic, meet-packing, food and textile industries who are under attack because of their fights in Italy.

In particular, the bosses dismiss hundreds of combative workers and hired private guards of security agencies to physical attacks strike pickets. The police is systematically using violence against strikers. The state persecutes hundreds of combative workers with judicial procedures, non renewal of residence permits with the threat of expelling workers and their families, and others repressive measures).

All these measures aim to prevent the extension of the struggle to other industries.

We support our full solidarity to the right to strike of our brothers and sisters in Italy.
